

illuminated auto compass

The Lincoln-Mercury compass offers an accurate directional guide that's tailored to the needs of the vacationer, the business traveler, and the back-roads "week-end explorer." Made to our specifications by one of the country's top compass manufacturers, this functional accessory is built to give constant, true bearings and long, dependable service. It's handsomely finished in a neutral color, and dial illumination is controlled by the head lamp switch. And, you'll find that this compass can be a source of amusement and adventure for children on family trips.

- Accurate directional guide
- Illuminated for nighttime reading
- Easily visible to all passengers

January 1, 1955